

Teachers are such influential people in our children's development. We, as parents, rely on them to not only teach the "basics," but to learn about our children and help them grow as individuals. How fortunate for my family that both of our children had Debbie Greivell as their teacher.

Jessica had Debbie while in first grade at Chappell School. Debbie recognized Jessica's desire to explore and learn as much as possible. She encouraged Jessica to discover all she could, allowing her to move beyond the "normal" curriculum. She met Jessica's individual needs and made school challenging and fun.

Jaimie was also lucky enough to have Debbie not only for first grade, but second as well. Debbie quickly realized our children are very different. She respected Jaimie's quiet resolve to become her own person, her own way. Debbie opened the doors of opportunity that allowed Jaimie to develop the confidence and skills that still serve her today, while recognizing that Jaimie, too, had the desire to explore and learn as much as she could.

TEACHERS MAKE A DIFFERENCE!

As parents we trust teachers to help us move our children down the right paths of life. Debbie Greivell was a great influence on our children in developing a strong academic base. More importantly, she nurtured their confidence and love of learning. She is a great teacher, and the Green Bay School District is fortunate to have her.
